Types of Fixed Prosthodontic Treatment

- Conventional tooth supported fixed partial denture
 - Utilizes an abutment tooth on each end or only one end (cantilever) of the edentulous space.
 - If abutment teeth are periodontally sound, the edentulous span is short and straight and the retainers are well designed and executed, the FPD can be expected to provide a long life and function for the pt.
 - there should be :
 - no gross soft tissue defect in the edentulous space
 - no dry mouth which can create a poor environment for FPD
